The Pests That Girdle the Home of Tucker the Turtle (Paperback)

By The Potomac Highlands Cwpma

Createspace, United States, 2013. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Molly Swales, Molly Swailes (illustrator). 216 x 216 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . The Pests that Girdle the Home of Tucker the Turtle is a new book that makes the concept of non-native invasive species accessible to children. The star of the book is Tucker, an Eastern box turtle who was born and raised in Pendleton County, WV. Through the telling of his story, Tucker shares the changes that he has seen as non-native invasive species have spread across his home. Spring wildflowers are disappearing, trees like native hemlocks are dying, and many strange, new critters have taken up residence. Tucker shares his experiences with fifteen different invasive species including insects, plants, and even a fish! Non-native invasive species are one of the greatest threats to the biodiversity and natural resource-based economies of West Virginia. And, their numbers are increasing! Each year, more than $138 billion is spent in the United States fighting invasive species. And the list of invasive species knocking at our door continues to grow-snakehead fish are moving towards West Virginia from Maryland and Virginia, many pests are threatening our forests including...
