Not only that, but Mr. Taft scratched his ballot in order to help elect her a member of the Board of Education. She had no party or ordinary political support, but the straight appeal was made that she was worthy and that nine-tenths of our teachers, one-half of our parents and onehalf of our children are women. She got the second highest number of votes on a non-partizan ticket, and almost ninetenths of them came from men. ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY. Dr. Harvey W. Wiley is authority for the statement that the fight for pure food was won by the women. For twenty-five years the battle had been waged in Washington and the lobbyists of the adulterators and misbranders had prevailed. Then came the women. The passage of the bill was due to the Federated Women s Club of this country, said Dr. Wiley to the League for Political Education, and he called upon them to exert their influence again so that the present law may be made stronger. It should be done and all women s clubs should join in the good work. Something for the Boys to Read. THE THINGS THAT COUNT. By John B. Jeffery. The harder you re thrown, the higher you bounce, Be proud of your blackened eye. It isn t the fact that you re whipped that counts, But how did you fight, and whyf And though you be done near to death, what then?...
